News from the Southwest was of such a conflicting character as to make shorts increasingly nervous. As the session advanced, demand from that source became more and more urgent. For July the highest point of the day was reached just before the close, the price touching 57%c. First quotations were 87%g87%c.

The corn market was inclined to weakness early, but it closed almost at the highest point. July opened a shade to the lower at 52c to 525525c. Strength of wheat and corn was the main factor in the oats market. July opened unchanged to a shade lower at 32543005c, sold up to 3054030c, and closed at 525,0005c, and closed at 525,0005c.

Provisions were firm on an estimate of small receipts of hogs for tomorrow. September nork closed 75c higher; lard was up 5075c, and ribs were 22-25c higher.

Marshall Spader & Co., New York, say. "An extremely duil and featureless market developed today with a rather low range of valued provailing during the closing hours of the session. There was, however, no actual weakness shown in any direction, and the market reflected more the lack of public interest and indifference of operators than any special influence working for a depression. The security market may continue to show dulliness pending the development of certain question, and among these that Hendricks report on Equitable affairs and the condition of the iron and steel trade is important, together with the consumination of peace negotiations; but there are no forces at work likely to furnien grounds for depression."

Hutton, New York, says. "Operations were on a very small scale. There was little or no news to influence values. The more important traders left the floor early to witness the suburban handleap. We look to see the waiting attitude of banking interests hers broken before long. Peace is practically assured tow in the far East and the Equitable tangle is being adjusted. Crop conditions are favorable and we look for more activity and higher prices."

T. A. McIntyre & Co., New York, say: "The market was dull and practically featureless today, with trading very light. For the present nothing better than a narrow traders market is to be expected. We see no reason, however, for holders of stocks to luceme agarned, and we do not expect to see anything but temporary slight reactionary movements on the usual hear raths. The generality of traders are disposed to wait further development in the Equitable affair, also move assurance regarding the crop situation and cultook, and what actien will be taken by the representatives of Russia and Jayan in their negotiations of lower London prices to morrow, traders were inclined to wait further development in the Equitable affair, al

Notwithstanding lower prices at Liverpeol, the wheat market here was atrong the entire seesson. At the opening July was up 150% at 85050%. From the start shorts were active buyers. The attention of traders today was directed mainly to the yet undetermined character of sprinsown wheat. Weather in the Canadian Northwest was discouraging to traders on the bear side of the market, freezing temperature being reported from some sections. Excessive moisture was also reported in that region. Predicted eastward spread of similar conditions was a source of anxiety to shorts.

In addition, many reports were received emphasising the probability of great damage to the spring wheat crop by rust. A partial corroboration of the builtsh advices was found in an advance of over 2
